

Figure 3.7A — Composite attenuation concept

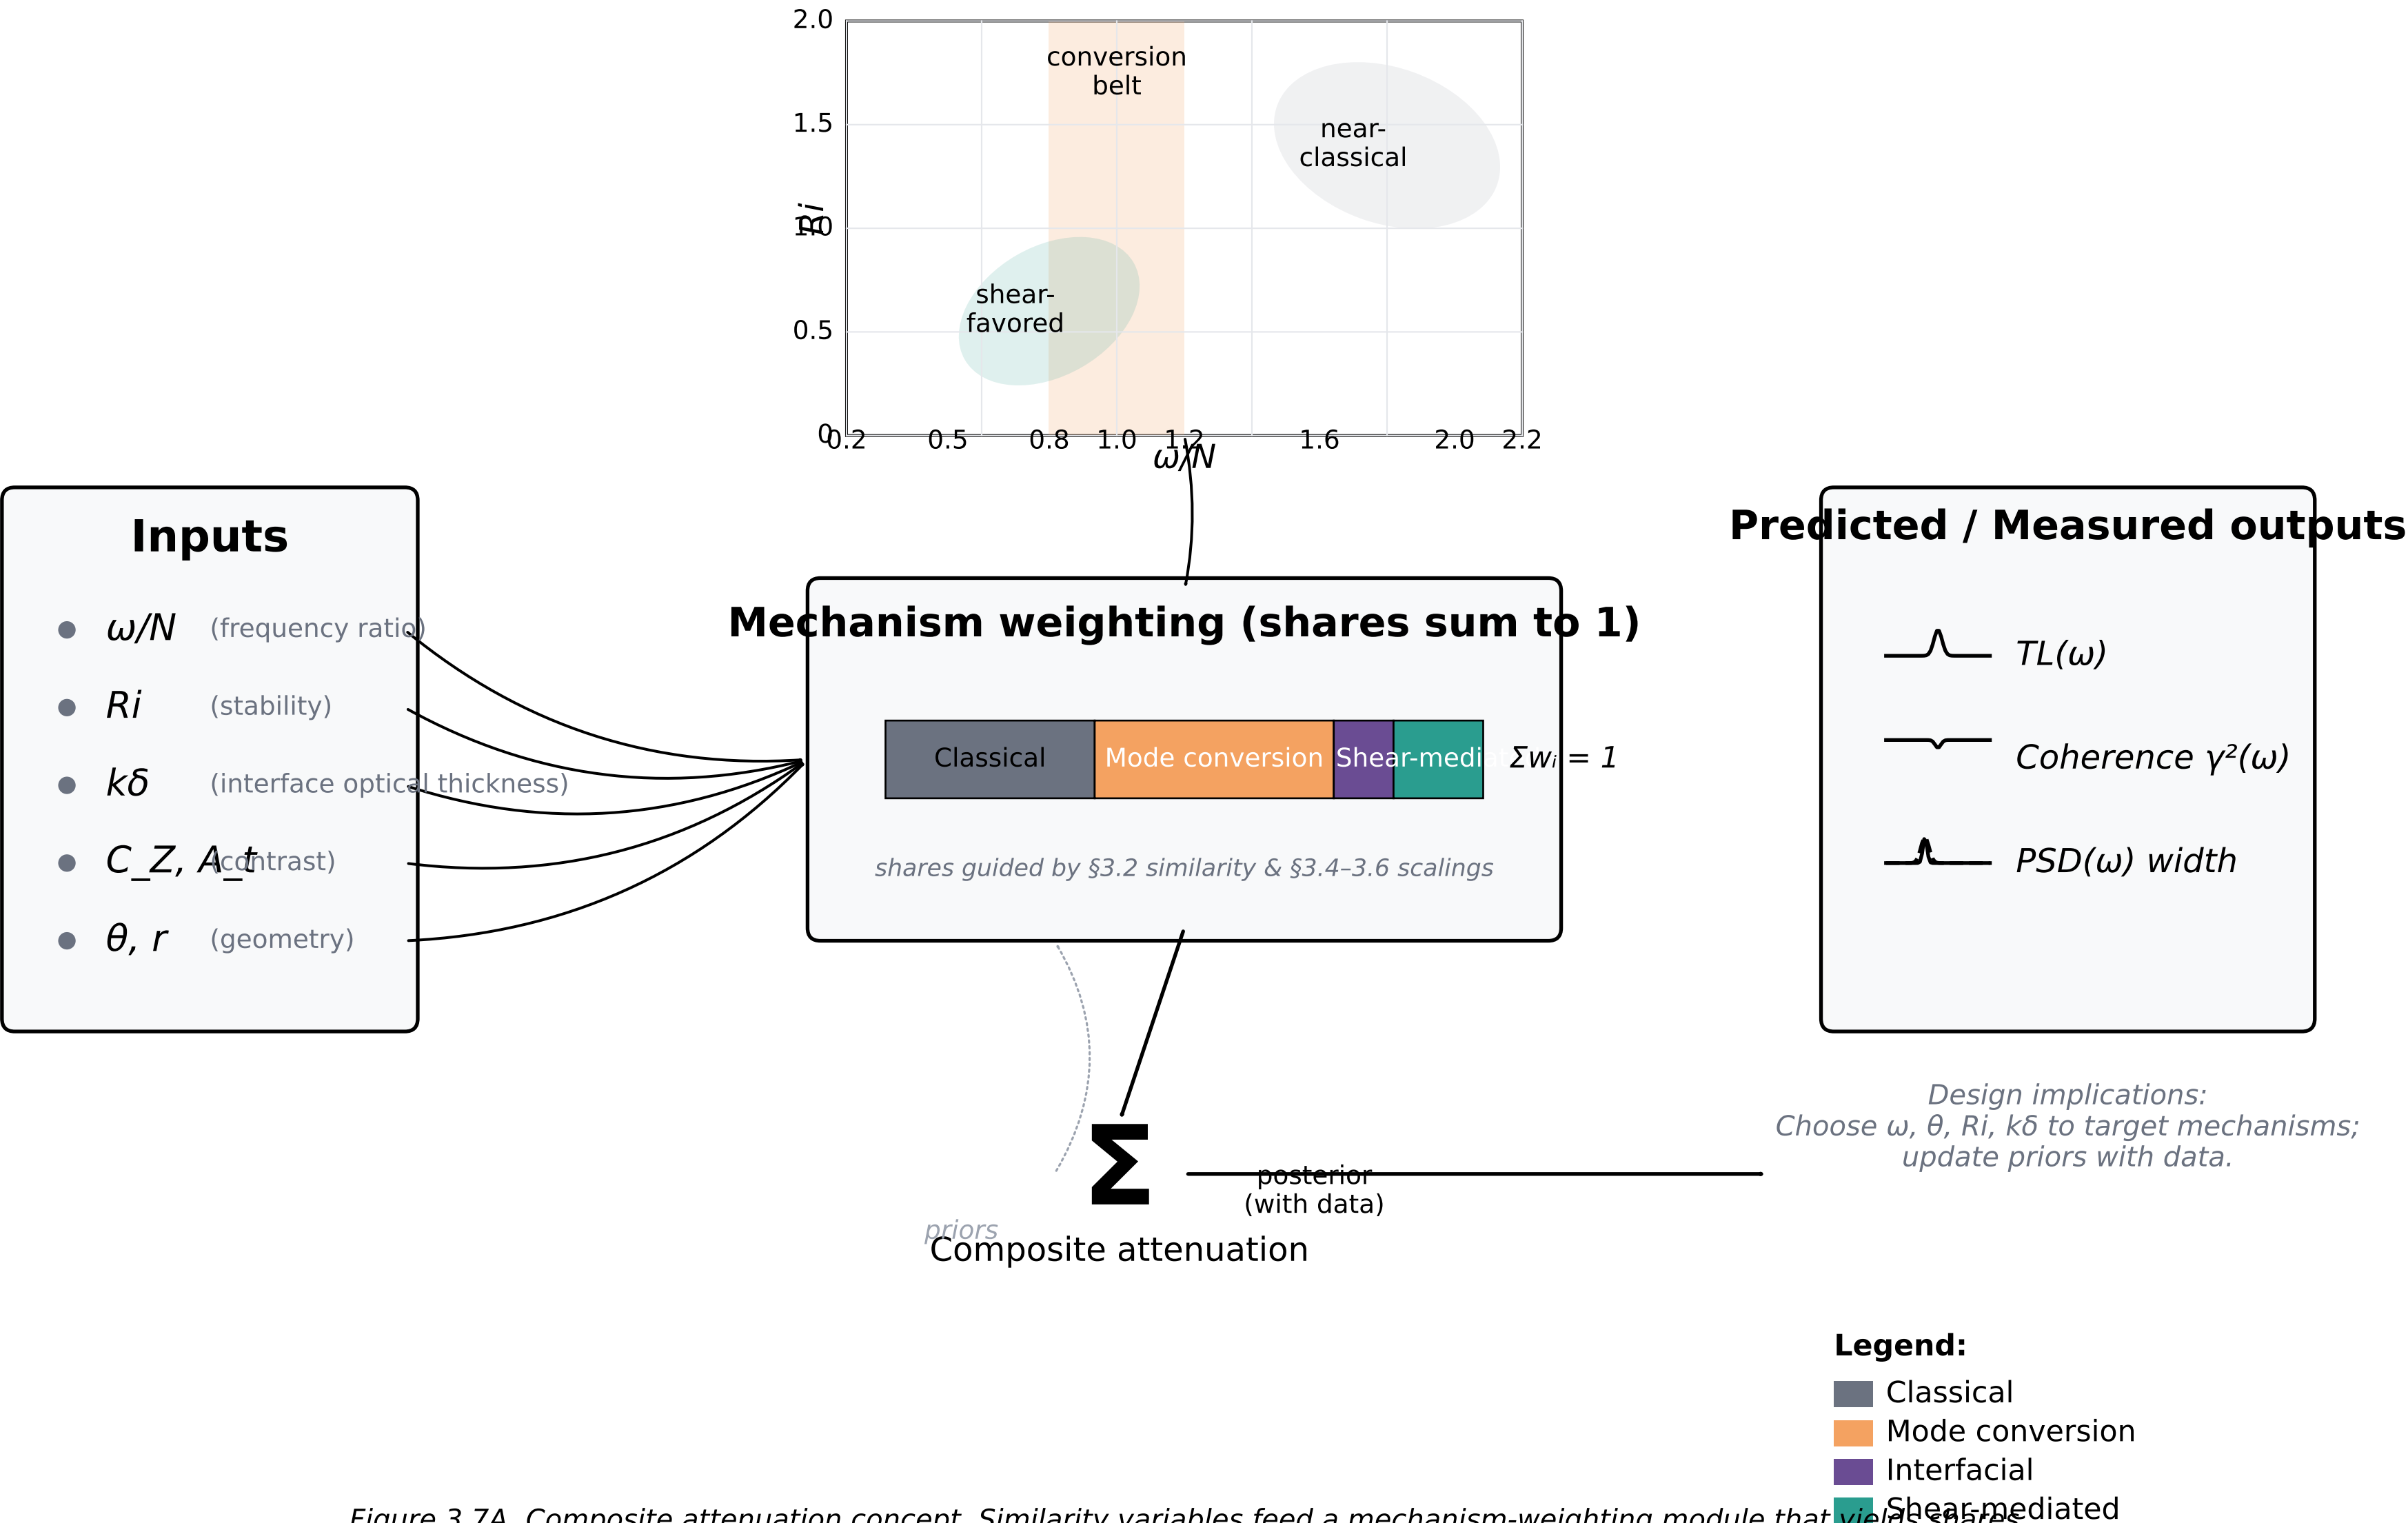

Figure 3.7A. Composite attenuation concept. Similarity variables feed a mechanism-weighting module that yields shares summing to unity; these combine into a composite prediction of attenuation and observables used to set priors and design experiments.